

Adverbs of Possibility

Which sentence is the odd one out?

- I will possibly go swimming tonight.
- I will definitely go swimming tonight.
- I will maybe go swimming tonight.

Explain why.

Which sentence is most likely to happen? Explain how you know.

I will probably see Jake at the pool.

I will possibly see Samantha tonight.

Is the statement below always, sometimes or never true? Use examples to show this.

Adverbs of possibility are always placed at the beginning of a sentence.

Tom says the sentence below contains an adverb of possibility. Is he correct?

The team achieved the best possible result.

