

Brackets for Parenthesis

Although both sentences are correct, explain how the importance of the information changes.

The car (which was stolen) was yellow.

The car (which was yellow) was stolen.

Look at the sentences below. Correct the mistakes and explain what the purpose is of the parenthesis.

- The beach which (is surrounded by palm trees and sparkling blue waters) is a paradise for tourists.
- Italy is a famous European country and it is my (favourite).
- William Shakespeare (1564) - (1616) wrote several plays.

Kate wants to use brackets to expand her sentence.

The Eiffel Tower is in France.

Explain how she can use them to expand her sentence and how she can tell whether she has used them correctly.

Imagine you are writing a story and you want to add some interesting facts about a character. How could you use brackets to include those facts in your story?

